While research on stalking among adolescents is limited, estimates generally show that adolescents are stalked at higher rates than adults.

48% of teens (ages 12-18) with dating experience were also stalked at some point in their lifetimes.

TEENS WHO STALK ARE MORE LIKELY TO BE VIOLENT THAN PEERS WHO DO NOT.

INCREASED RISK OF STALKING VICTIMIZATION:

Citations